This is definitely mine. I'm not sure meeting with CalEPA will be of any value to her, but DOGGR and SWRCB yes. Jared does not need a pre-briefing, given how involved he's been in our UIC stuff.

Abigail – Per my long voice mail that I left you. The Administrator's new Unconventional Oil & Gas political lead is Teresa Marks. She is being thrown into the fire of fracking issues and all things related. We are sending out in two weeks to west and mid-west in order to start talking to stakeholders with the States. I need to get a briefing with the RA per the email below to bring Teresa up to speed on on Region 9 as soon as we can get one. Teresa is out of our offices the entire week of March the 23rd, and dealing with ECOS meetings the first three days of next week. So we are unfortunately trying to squeeze everything really pressing into the days of the 18th, the 19th, and the morning of the 20th before she flies out of DC. I am able to be reached by phone all day in order to attempt finding a time for the briefing so please just give me a ring. I am holding off on setting up the other 4 pertinent briefings she needs until after I hear from you!

Thanks,

Don

Hello,

Teresa Marks, our new Principal Advisor to the Administrator on Unconventional Oil and Gas, will be travelling to a group of States beginning as early as late March through April. The purpose is to meet with the heads of the environment and oil and gas departments in the following states: CA, OK, TX, PA, CO, ND, UT, and WY. She will be out in CA during the week of March 23rd and will try to add the meeting with CA around that trip. We look to the Regions to assist in scheduling these meetings with the Department heads and for the RAs to participate in the discussions. I will update this email with more details about the proposed travel times to the remaining states.

Teresa will be reaching out to your AAs. In the meantime, Don Maddox will be scheduling time for the RAs to brief Teresa on past (Pavillion, Parker County, Dimock, etc.) and current activities related to unconventional oil and gas (or perceived by external parties or the press to be related) before she meets with the States. Region 9's briefing for Teresa will be put on calendar next week since she departs early on March 20th. Also, we would ask the HFPOCs to prepare background materials on those issues that Teresa can have in hand before she travels. We will need Region 9's materials by Wednesday March 18th.

Please let me know of any questions and look for updates. Thanks.

Mary
